MEMBERSHIP OF AMERICAN CHURCHES

Figures for church membership gains in the United States, released through the Federal Council of Churches late in 1945, show larger totals reported than ever before. The proportion of church members to the entire population registers a new high of 52.5 per cent, according to Dr. Benson Y. Landis, editor of the Yearbook of American Churches, a biennial volume sponsored by the Federal Council.

Church membership in Protestant, Catholic and Jewish bodies totaled 72,492,669 persons. Jewish congregations reported 4,641,184. The largest body is the Roman Catholic Church with its 23,419,701 members. The Methodist Church with 8,046,129 members is the largest Protestant denomination. The Evangelical and Reformed Church reported 689,780 members at the close of 1944, as compared with 675,958 in 1943.

FOREWORD

THE Committee on Year Book is pleased to present the 1946 volume to the members and friends of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. It was most gratifying to the Committee to learn that the 1945 edition of 25,000 copies was completely sold out within a month after publication, and that more than 3,000 additional copies could have been sold. The book was well received both within and beyond the denomination.

Acting upon the authorization that there be a substantial increase in the 1946 edition, the Committee, with the approval of a committee from the Board of Business Management, has had 28,000 copies of the 1946 Year Book printed. At the same time, for reasons which need not be given in these exacting times, the retail price was increased from 25 to 35 cents the copy.

The compiling and publication of a denominational Year Book is at once an adventure in faith and a project in good works. This book touches the life of the Church from center to circumference, and views her program and activities from many angles. It is not an extravagant statement to say that more individuals participated in its preparation than in any other single project sponsored by the Church.

Once the Year Book is made available to the public, it becomes the responsibility of the three Publishing Houses, the Church papers, the local pastors, groups within the 2800 congregations and the denominational agencies to make the entire Church "Year Book conscious," and to promote sales as much as possible. The phenomenal results obtained with the 1945 edition were only possible because of the splendid cooperation received on every hand. Special and grateful acknowledgment is hereby made of the valuable assistance given by the Women's Guild which circularized every women's group in the Church with the suggestion that copies of the Year Book be given as Christmas remembrances to the needy, the aged and the shut-ins.

We trust that with God's blessing the Year Book may be used for the enrichment of the life of our Church and for the advancement of the kingdom in all the earth.

THE COMMITTEE.

S	3	Isa. 43:1-13	The Christian Steward lives a dedicated life. Recognition that his abilities, time and material possessions are a trust from God imbues him with a sense of responsibility for their right use. There has never been more urgent need for the Christian Steward than today, when a war-devastated world is seeking a sure foundation on which to build a secure and peaceful civilization. That foundation is the Christian gospel, expressed in terms of Stewardship.

S	10	Mark 9:2-8	Indeed, there is no Christianity without Stewardship. Like faith without works, Christianity without Stewardship is dead. Stewardship gives direction and focus to the life of the individual Christian. It is the channel through which the Christian message is spread. It is the mechanism through which the Christian ethic is put into effect, socially and politically. In short, Stewardship is the means by which Christianity becomes an active force in the world.

S	17	Phil. 2:5-11	The average person is apt to feel obscure and unimportant. Yet society is composed, for the most part, of millions like himself, and if each were faithful in his Stewardship the results would be incalculable. The Christian Steward, devoting his time, his talents and a "separated portion" of his money to the service of God, belongs to a fellowship that is the hope of the world.

It is an opportune time for an aggressive effort on the part of every congregation to reach the unreached of the community. The whole fate of a people may depend upon the judgment of a few men, and if this judgment is in error, the consequences will be disastrous. It is for this reason that the Church is ever concerned with the inner life of her people, for there the decisions are made.

It is a good time to think about the barriers of race and class and nation and creed, and about ways in which, in the spirit of Jesus, we can break down these barriers and build new bridges of brotherhood among men. As our hearts are filled with the spirit of sharing, let us think not only of material things, but let us also determine to share with all men the highest ideals we know.

ENLISTING FOR WORLD SERVICE

A Timely Message from the President of the Church

EVERY thoughtful person will agree that the world of our day stands above all in need of a spiritual rebirth. Only thus can its civilization be reconstructed and its whole life developed into something more glorious than the past has ever known. For many years the Church has had a great concern for the establishment of a just and enduring peace. Increasingly, however, it has become evident that the leaders of the nations, as well as the great majority of their people, are not possessed of the spiritual grace which alone can make the establishment of such a peace possible. Even in the minds of the majority of the members of the churches the slogan, "A Just and Enduring Peace," has awakened the hope of a day in which war shall be no more. However, there has been no commensurate desire for the transformation of the lives of the peoples of earth through the power of the spirit of the living God. Renewed and reborn lives alone form a basis of a just as well as an enduring peace.

In the measure, however, in which men have come to realize that the war has provided a convincing evidence that our civilization was built on faulty foundations are they abandoning their reliance on material and political resources. In their longing to discover a ground of hope for the future, thoughtful people and men of light and leading agree that the hope of mankind rests with the Christian Church and her message of love and reconciliation to a needy world.

Since this is true the members of our communion must have a profound conviction that the day is gone in which we dare confine our Christian service to our own constituency, or to our own land. No longer can we be content to minister merely through our local congregations, or be satisfied that we have met our obligation when we endorse and support the Christian enterprise known as international or foreign missions. As never before have we come to understand that the fate of the whole world is bound up in one bundle. We realize that it is not sufficient to think of the world as one neighborhood. Today it is that, whether we like it or not. The Church is confronted with the task to make of this neighborhood a brotherhood under the fatherhood of God.

To meet this task the Evangelical and Reformed Church must have a part in the strengthening of the forces of religion both at home and abroad; most especially in the devastated countries of ancient Christendom, that is, in Europe. It is for this reason that our Church has made available for service in Europe, under the auspices of the World Council of Churches, whose headquarters are in Geneva, Switzerland, Dr. Carl E. Schneider, professor of Church History in Eden Theological Seminary. When this article appears in print he will undoubtedly be carrying the message of Christian fellowship and reconciling love to the members of the churches in the countries of our allies and of those whom we but a few months ago counted our enemies. To establish an even more immediate contact with the Christian forces of Europe and to develop avenues through which our Christian love may express itself quite at once in service, the writer has been asked to make a hurried visit to the churches of the European continent. These missions to Europe will undoubtedly be followed later by similar missions to Asia.

The Evangelical and Reformed Church will, however, not be in a favorable position to make a vital contribution toward the strengthening of the spiritual forces in other lands unless she is willing to place herself with complete abandon under the quickening influence of the spirit of the living God who in Christ claims us for His service. We, therefore, call upon our membership to be loyal to the Word of God and to the fellowship of believers. Only as we place ourselves constantly anew under the influence of that Word can we hope to obtain the grace which will bless us and make us in turn a blessing to others.

Christian people in America may have learned to worship, but they have very largely forgotten how to serve God. We would call upon our congregations so to rebuild their program that the entire membership may be enlisted in the active service of the Church through the assignment of specific important tasks. If we would have a part in the building of a new world we need begin by rebuilding our churches. By that we do not mean the erection of new and beautiful edifices of worship, but rather the building of congregations out of living stones, with Christ as the headstone of the arch. Thus will we be a household of God. A church such as this will expend its life in devoted and sacrificial service.

However, in addition to the enlistment of our total membership in volunteer service our Church is faced with a serious need for an enlarged number of young men and women willing to dedicate their lives to full-time Christian service. For many years we have not been able adequately to supply our churches with pastors. This condition has been aggravated through the entry of many of our best pastors into the chaplaincy. Then, too, we would sound the call for the enlistment of a large number of specially trained lay workers, both men and women, to serve as pastors' assistants, directors of religious education and youth fellowships, parish workers and deaconesses. Nor does this exhaust the challenge to our young people. If, indeed, we would build a new world by winning it for Christ, we need many more volunteers for service in those areas of the world for which we have assumed a special responsibility through our far-flung international missionary enterprise. We have accepted the challenge to carry the gospel to China, Japan, India, Honduras, Iraq, Africa and more recently to the Indians of the Andes Mountains.

Thank God that there is in our Church an awakening to the challenge for life-time service in the cause of Christ! At a recent meeting of the Board of International Missions our hearts were gladdened by the presence of twenty-one candidates for missionary service in the above-named areas. Our own office is in correspondence with more than one thousand young men and more than one hundred young women who are seriously considering the challenge to dedicate their lives to the cause of Christ's church. Nearly every week we receive reports from chaplains, through the office of the General Commission of Chaplains, submitting to us the names of young men of our Church, now in the armed forces, who have expressed a desire to prepare themselves for the Christian ministry.

The number of those who at present have definitely committed themselves to full-time Christian service remains all too small. Incomplete reports indicate that approximately three hundred young men are enrolled with their respective Synods as pretheological or theological students. Undoubtedly others are at present pursuing an academic course in our church related colleges, or in other schools of higher learning, who have not as yet come to a definite decision but who are seriously considering the Christian ministry as their vocation. Annually, however, about fifty of our pastors are called to their eternal home. Thus it is evident that the above number of recruits is not sufficient to provide for the existing shortage of pastors.

The Life Enlistment campaign inaugurated by our office cannot hope to succeed unless it is undergirded by the local congregation as well as the home. Pastors have in the past presented the challenge of the Christian ministry to the members of their confirmation classes. They will not cease to extend this call even more urgently to the young men and women of their parishes. In every conceivable way the claims of Christ on the lives of His followers need to be presented. The Church has a priority on the choicest of its young men and women.

Our appeal, however, is directed also to the Christian home. It needs to develop a new attitude toward full-time Christian service. This is the place where the convictions of children and young people are fixed. If material things are given primary consideration in the home, it is not likely that its children will place spiritual values first. Christian parents need to be filled with a new passion to carry the gospel message of redemption to all the world. A Roman Catholic priest once said to us: "Nearly every priest I know was impelled to study for the ministry through the influence of a pious mother." I think that applies to Protestant ministers as well.

That brings us back to a statement made above, viz., the need of the world for a spiritual rebirth can be met only through a revival of the faith and devotion of the present members of the Christian Church. Out of devastated, suffering Europe come reports which indicate that the churches of many lands in that continent have undergone a revival. Will the hope of the Church perhaps lie rather with the spiritual resources of Europe than of America? Thank God for the contribution these churches may make to the rebuilding of the world! Nevertheless the fact remains that God's Word comes to us in America today, challenging us to bear witness unto His healing grace and life-renewing love.

Amos, the herdsman of Tekoa, had a word from God, even as we have such a word from God. Having that word, a great necessity was upon him. "Surely the Lord Jehovah will do nothing, except he reveal his secret unto his servants, the prophets. The lion hath roared! who will not fear? The Lord Jehovah hath spoken; who can but prophesy?" The cannons have roared; who will not fear? The Lord God hath given us a word of hope and life; who can refuse to bear witness unto it?

The time has come when we need attack the very fortress of the evil which has engulfed the world. Demonic forces have been generated and released by the spirit of secularism and nationalism. This spirit must be driven out by the Word of the living God. In its place there must come the spirit of truth, and righteousness, and justice, and love, and brotherhood. This spirit is the gift of God. To lead men to accept this gift is the task to which our Church must dedicate herself with new consecration. Enlist for service, all you who have heard the Word of the Lord! Give us your sons and daughters that they may prophesy and witness unto the power of the gospel of Christ our Lord. Of necessity we must declare this gospel unto all men.

THE ANNUAL STEWARDSHIP ESSAY AND POSTER CONTEST

Dr. William E. Lampe

THE annual Stewardship Essay and Poster Contest, begun in a small way nearly a quarter of a century ago, has manifested a continuous and uninterrupted growth that has made its successful conduct an undertaking of major proportions.

The reasons for the hold which this Contest has taken upon our Church are readily apparent. The Christian life and the work of the Christian Church are essentially Stewardship, individual and collective. Those responsible for the Contest have always borne this truth in mind when choosing the general theme and the group topics for each successive Contest.

The Contest is fundamentally an educational project and reaches all ages and groups within the congregation. It is, moreover, an undertaking which enlists the efforts of the laity to an unusual degree, not simply as participants, but also as promoters, organizers, supervisors and judges. In scope and in the number of helpers involved, it is probably the outstanding cooperative enterprise of our Church.

After the Contest has closed in the congregations the essays selected by the congregational judges are sent to the Synodical judges—usually the Kingdom Service Committees of their Synods. The preliminary denominational judging of the essays chosen by the Synodical judges and awarded the Synodical prizes is entrusted to members of a single church, a different congregation serving each year. These judges narrow the number of essays in each group to ten, which are then turned over to the final denominational judges—a minister and two lay members, a man and a woman, for each group.

All posters are entered in the denominational competition. The preliminary judges view the several hundred posters submitted by congregations as their best and eliminate all but the very best. These are then sent to the final judges.

There are ten denominational awards for each group of essays and five for each group of posters. To the recipients of the highest awards money prizes are given. For the others, books are selected. The pastor of each fortunate contestant is requested to present the award, in the name of the Committee on Stewardship, at a church or Church School service.

The Committee on Stewardship believes that the Essay and Poster Contest is abundantly worth the work that is involved. Contest statistics compiled from year to year show a rapid and widespread growth of interest on the part of our people. Last year 8745 packets for contestants were sent upon request. Checking back in different ways with congregations and Synods the Committee finds that there are more than half as many essays written or posters made as there are packets of study material requested. Last year the number of entries probably totaled four or five thousand. Of course not everyone who asks for a packet of leaflets writes an essay or makes a poster.

Though the Essay and Poster Contest is the outstanding feature of our Stewardship Period the Committee on Stewardship has always advocated and encouraged a varied, well-developed program of Stewardship activities in the congregations. It believes that this program should not be confined to the ten weeks fixed by the General Synod for special emphasis upon Christian Stewardship but should continue throughout the year.

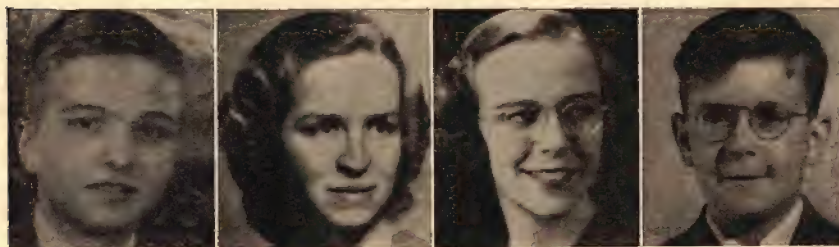

There are unmistakable indications that our Church is developing a Stewardship-minded membership. The generous gifts of our people, first to the War Emergency Relief Fund, and now to the World Service Fund of $2,000,000, are but two examples. While Stewardship is not an ingenious camouflage for money-raising which, to the uninformed skeptic, it sometimes appears to be, it inevitably develops in the sincere Steward a willingness and desire to give of his substance to the work of the Church and the welfare of his fellow men. The Stewardship life is a sharing life, and one who regards all that he has as a sacred trust recognizes that his money is included in that trust.

With the end of the war a new era began. Its character, and the future of humanity, will be largely determined during the next few years. A heavy responsibility rests upon the Christian Churches. Within our denomination all our Boards and agencies are making earnest preparation for the urgent tasks that lie before them. It is the part of Christian Stewardship to undergird each and every one of them. Small wonder, then, that during the United Stewardship Enlistment in 1946-47 our Church will endeavor so to awaken the Stewardship consciousness of our members that all will commit themselves to a life of Christian Stewardship.

The cash and book awards for the twenty-third annual stewardship contest have been given to the following persons residing in thirteen states and the District of Columbia, representing thirty-four Synods:—

OUR CHAPLAINS IN THE ARMED SERVICE

The Committee on Chaplains of the Evangelical and Reformed Church has been working in harmony and close union with the General Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains. This Commission, which meets at stated intervals, is composed of representatives of the leading denominations, ten members-at-large and four visiting representatives who have voice but no vote. The Chiefs of Chaplains of the U. S. Army and Navy are advisory members. Our Committee on Chaplains is composed of Dr. Calvin H. Wingert, Chairman; Dr. William E. Lampe, Secretary; and Rev. Charles Enders. This committee carefully considers and passes upon every candidate for the chaplaincy before he is recommended for a commission.

On September 30, 1945, we had 106 chaplains in the armed service. These representatives of ours have given a good account of themselves and their service record has been a constant challenge to us here at home, not only to provide them with the necessary equipment, but also to pray God's guidance upon them and his protection over them.

Now that hostilities have ceased on all fronts and the chaplains are gradually being returned to civilian life, it is a great concern of the Church that they again be integrated in some branch of Kingdom service. Most of them will seek a return to active pastorates. A significant meeting of the Executive Committee of the General Commission to plan for the returning chaplains was held at Washington in June of 1945. At this meeting the denominational representatives presented a summary of plans in the form of official communications or personal statements showing the concern of their respective communions and their eagerness to assimilate the chaplains into the active service of the Church.

For the Chaplains

Every possible help within the power of our Church has been proffered to the chaplains. Rev. Henry C. Koch, of the Bureau for Men in Service, has been alert to their needs and has done all in his power to supply them. Ever since the beginning of the work Mr. Koch has kept in touch with all the chaplains through the periodical news letter "Fraternally." The rush with which local congregations volunteered to furnish field communion sets is typical of the willingness of the Church to meet the challenge. Every chaplain has enjoyed the privilege of ordering gratis copies of The Messenger and Youth. Hundreds of copies of every issue are being circulated. A gift subscription to any magazine for which the chaplains might express a preference—a Christmas remembrance with the good wishes of the Church—has been greatly appreciated. Billfold-size cards containing the calendar and space for the chaplain's name and address have been provided. A recent inventory of supplies distributed through Mr. Koch's department included the following: many sets of musical recordings containing two albums of twelve records each, 19 field communion sets, 6 altar cloths, 16 candles, 4 baptismal bowls, 10,500 communion wafers, 2 private communion sets, 2 pitchers, one set of stoles, many German New Testaments furnished through the American Bible Society, and much devotional literature.

By the Chaplains

From first to last the life of the chaplain is one of service and sacrifice. His enlistment is purely voluntary. Like the soldier, he leaves all to serve wherever his country may need him. Unlike the soldier, he goes about unarmed, and yet he is armed with the Christian soldier's strongest weapon, the "sword of the Spirit." He becomes an ambassador of peace and good-will in an environment where these soul qualities thrive with difficulty.

He will minister to friend and foe. For some time one of our chaplains has been giving full time to the prisoners of war in this country. Several are serving the war prisoners in areas adjacent to the camps where they are regularly stationed. A number of local pastors are assisting in this phase of the work.

His is a many-sided ministry. He is a man of many parts. He is the spiritual adviser and the recreational leader. He encourages and cheers the sick and injured. He communicates with and brings consolation to the families of men who have been killed or seriously injured. Since peace has been declared it is said that chaplains are making the largest contribution toward the reintegration of service personnel into civilian life by their ministry among them.

The accompanying pictures illustrate the many-sidedness of the chaplain's ministry. They show various phases of the work of Chaplain

Edwin N. Faye at a supply base on an island in the Pacific Ocean.

Appended is the official list of chaplains corrected to September 30, 1945. The list includes the three who died in service, but not those who have been released from service or whose applications were pending on that date.

A PRIMER OF UNION

Issued by a Joint Committee, for Study of the Proposed Merger of the Congregational Christian and Evangelical and Reformed Churches

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

1. Whence the Name "Congregational"?

In 1620 the Mayflower brought the Pilgrims to Plymouth and during succeeding years other vessels brought many Puritans to Massachusetts Bay. They and their like-minded friends in England called themselves "Congregationalists" because they believed that each congregation should govern its own inner life.

2. Whence the Name "Christians" (as a distinctive denominational title)?

At the end of the eighteenth and the beginning of the nineteenth century three unrelated movements took their start in Virginia and North Carolina, in New England, and in the Ohio Valley, and in 1820 were united under the simple name "Christian" as a protest against denominationalism.

3. Are not the Disciples of Christ Often Known as "Christians"?

Yes. The founders of that denomination were familiar with the name as used by the group already established, and adopted it in many places.

4. When Were the Names "Congregational" and "Christian" United?

In 1931, when a union was effected between the General Convention of the Christian Church and the National Council of the Congregational Churches. (The title Congregational Christian is hereinafter abbreviated to C.C.)

5. Whence the Name "Evangelical"?

This name, the general equivalent of "Protestant," was taken by a group whose members began coming into the Middle West in the early nineteenth century from Germany and Switzerland, some of them having formerly been of the Lutheran Church, which dates from 1517, and others of the Reformed Church of Zwingli and Calvin.

6. Whence the Name "Reformed"?

This stems from the Reformation in the 16th century. It was brought from the Palatinate and neighboring German provinces and Switzerland when, beginning in 1710, the spiritual descendants of the great Swiss and Palatine Reformers settled in Pennsylvania and the surrounding colonies and founded churches there.

7. When Were the Names "Evangelical" and "Reformed" United?

In 1934, when the Evangelical Synod of North America and the Reformed Church in the United States became the Evangelical and Reformed Church (hereinafter abbreviated to E. and R.).

8. Would These Four Honored Names Be Lost in a Union?

No; the local churches would retain their former names, and add, above or below them, the United Church of Christ.

9. Where Did the Idea of the Proposed Union Have Its Start?

In St. Louis, where the ministers of the two communions have long enjoyed close cooperation. The matter was presented to the members of the C.C. Commission on Interchurch Relations and Christian Unity in 1940, and they waited upon the E. and R. General Council, inviting informal conversations with the E. and R. Committee on Closer Relations with Other Churches. These conversations were made official by the national bodies of the two communions in 1942. In 1944 the national bodies voted to carry forward a process of mutual acquaintance looking toward possible union.

STATISTICS

10. How Many Congregations Belong to the C.C. Churches?

The last Year Book, with statistics for 1943, shows 5,891.

11. How Many in the E. and R. Church?

The last Statistical Tables for the year ending December 31, 1943, show 2,835. This makes a combined total of 8,726.

12. How Many Members of the Two Communions Are There in the United States?

1,093,325 C.C. members, and 675,958 E. and R. members not counting the baptized who are not yet communicants. The total of the two is 1,769,283.

13. Where Are the C.C. Churches Strongest?

There are more than 25,000 members in each of the following states, shown in the order of their strength: Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Illinois, Ohio, California, Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Maine and New Hampshire.

14. Where Does the Numerical Strength of the E. and R. Church Lie?

There are over 200,000 members in Pennsylvania alone, and more than 25,000 in each of the following states, taken in order of their strength: Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Indiana and New York.

15. Are the Two Communions Growing?

Yes, each is adding about one per cent per annum, though each has shown losses in Sunday School enrollment.

16. How Do They Stand on Benevolences and Congregational Expenses?

Their giving is about the same, as follows:

Benevolences		Congregational Expenses
C.C.	$2.66	$14.80
E. and R.	3.11	14.71

17. Compared to Other Denominations Is This Good or Only Fair?

The giving of both church groups is a little below the average of American denominations for benevolences and a little above the average for congregational expenses.

18. What About the Value of Property Held by the Churches?

The C.C. total is about 167 million dollars, the E. and R. total about 91 million dollars. The combined total is about 258 million dollars.

19. What Debts Have the C.C. Churches?

They regard as a first charge upon their resources the payments of ministerial pensions under a system now superseded which will call for about $120,000 per annum until about 1950, after which the demand will lessen annually.

20. What Debts Have the E. and R. Church?

None as such, though there are liabilities of about $900,000 in a denominational church building account, matched by assets of over $1,500,000, and mortgages in process of liquidation on a building in Philadelphia and a publishing house in Cleveland.

POLITY

21. How Are the C.C. Churches Organized?

In Associations which, roughly speaking, are county units, in Conferences which are usually state units, and in the General Council, which is the national body.

22. How Is the E. and R. Church Organized?

In Synods, which are generally larger than Associations and smaller than Conferences, and in the General Synod, the national body.

23. How Are the Members of Associations, Synods, Conferences, and National Bodies Chosen?

The two denominations are similar in being representative democracies, the Associations, Synods, and Conferences being made up of delegates from the congregations; and the national bodies, of representatives from the Conferences (and Associations) and Synods.

24. Who Owns the Property of the Local Church?

In both denominations it is usual for the local church to own it, but in the E. and R. constitution there is a provision whereby every congregation uniting with the denomination after 1950 must include in its constitution a clause to the effect that in case of later withdrawal its property shall revert to the denomination. The Reformed congregations have long since followed the latter practice.

25. Who Would Own Local Church Property Under the Proposed Union?

The local church, unless it made it over to the Conference.

26. Who Are the Lay Officers of a Congregation?

In the E. and R. Church they are the elders, deacons (who give special attention to the benevolent side of the church life), and trustees. In the C.C. churches they are the deacons (who combine the office of elder and deacon) and trustees. In all cases they are elected by the congregation. These are the traditional offices: in both churches other positions, like that of Church School Superintendent, have come to assume great importance.

27. Who Admits and Dismisses Members in a Local Church?

In a C.C. church, the adult membership, on recommendation of a committee composed of the ministers and deacons (and sometimes a few other members at large), in an E. and R. church, the Spiritual Council made up of the Minister and Elders.

28. How Often Do the Associations, Conferences, and Synods Meet?

The Associations from two to six times a year, the Conferences once or twice a year, the Synods twice a year.

29. How Often Do the General Council and General Synod Meet?

The former every two, the latter every three, years.

30. What Bodies Look After the Interests of the Denominations Between These Meetings?

Committees: the General Council's Executive Committee and the General Synod's General Council.

31. Do Any of These Bodies, Except the Local Churches, Have Full Time Executives?

The C.C. Conferences usually employ full-time "Superintendents," who enjoy the authority given to executives but not that traditionally assigned to bishops. The Presidents of Synods are ministers who give only part of their time to the Synodical work. The C.C. Churches have their Minister (who is also Secretary) and Associate Secretary of the General Council, the E. and R. Church its President, Secretary, and Treasurer of the Church. The Minister of the General Council and the President of the Church have corresponding duties. The Moderatorships in both cases are honorary officers. The duties of the E. and R. Moderator begin and end with the triennial meeting over which he presides, but the C.C. Moderator usually spends part of his biennium in travel among the churches, exerting a wide influence. The Treasurership of the C. C. General Council is also an honorary position.

32. What Kind of "Polity" or Church Government Do the Two Denominations Employ?

The C.C. Churches may be said to have a congregational polity (rule by congregations) with presbyterial elements (rule by presbyteries, or committees representing groups of churches), and the E. and R. Church a presbyterial polity with congregational elements. Both contain episcopal elements (rule by leaders chosen by Conferences or Synods) but without connotations of "Apostolic Succession."

33. Is There Any Common Ground In the Two?

Yes, both groups believe that the ultimate authority in a denomination under God is not in the executive officers, nor in any particular group of any kind.

whether it be a General Council, General Synod, Conference, Synod, or an individual church, but rather in the denomination as a whole: which is to say that each individual and each congregation carries part of this authority. The Boards and other national representative bodies of the denomination are assigned their authority by the denomination as a whole.

34. What Is the Principal Point of Divergence?

In general, there has probably been greater centralization of assigned authority in the E. and R. than in the C.C. communion.

35. In the Proposed Union Would Any Part of the Denomination Be Under the Control of Any Other Part, As, For Instance, the Local Churches "Under" the Conference?

No: each part would have its rights and responsibilities and no other part could take them away. These rights and responsibilities are described in principle in the Basis of Union and are to be more fully defined in the constitution of the United Church.

36. Could A Majority Vote of the Churches In a Conference Bind the Minority?

It could not bind the minority churches in their internal life, but it could bind them in their Conference relationships as for instance in the matter of the number and kind of delegates attending stated Conference meetings.

37. Would Not the System of Appeals in the United Church Vitate This Condition?

No: for the body to which an appeal was made would have only reviewing powers: if for instance the General Synod were called upon through a committee to consider whether a minister had been justly treated by the body wherein he held standing, it could after examination declare its approval or disapproval of the action of that body, and in the event of disapproval request a re-trial, but it could not give the minister a re-trial itself nor take over the matter of his standing.

38. Whence the Proposed System of Appeals?

The idea of appeal from one unit to a more broadly representative unit has been developed chiefly in presbyterial churches. The idea that the unit from which appeal is made may devise its own constitution, on the basis of which alone its action may be judged, is largely congregational. The principle of fellowship in both congregational and presbyterial systems would call for working harmony in the constitutions of the various units.

39. Who Would Own Property Now Held by Conferences, Theological Seminaries, Synods, etc.?

All existing charters would remain intact.

40. What Would Happen If a Congregation Did Not Pay Its Apportionment?

As now, it would have only its own conscience to reckon with. It would not be subject to discipline or penalty by a higher body.

41. Would the United Church Be Truly an Organic Fellowship?

Yes, it would be capable of moving ahead as a unit.

THE MINISTRY

42. Under the Present Systems Where Does the Minister Hold His Standing?

C.C. ministers have their standing in the Association or Conference, E. and R. ministers in the Synod.

43. Under the Proposed Plan for Union How Would Ministers Be Ordained?

By the body in which they would have their standing, that is, the Conference or (where desired) the Association.

44. What About the "Vicnages" Council in Congregationalism, Whereby Neighboring Churches and Not Necessarily the Association Ordained a Minister?

In the few remaining areas in which vicinage councils are employed, the ministers they "ordain" do not acquire standing in the denomination until they are accepted by the Association.

45. Under the Present Systems Who Calls the Minister?

In both denominations the local church does so, but in the E. and R. Church he must be approved by the Synod or in the interim of the annual meetings of the Synod by a committee responsible to the Synod.

46. How Would a Minister Be Called in the United Church?

By the local church. The aid and approval of a Conference committee on placement would undoubtedly be strongly advised by the denomination as a whole.

47. Would the Minister Be Installed, and If So, How?

When elected by a Congregation, the minister would be installed by an Association or Conference at the request of the Congregation.

48. What Would Become of Ministerial Pensions?

Both the C.C. and the E. and R. pension systems would persist, those who are already members being duly protected, but no new members being admitted. For the latter a third system would be set up, which would eventually supersede the other two.

GENERAL

49. What Right Have We to the Name "United Church of Christ"?

We should be in fact a united church of Christ, though not the only one. "Church" here has the meaning of "denomination." If the name seems too presumptuous, it should be remembered that any good general name must seem so, since it would apply equally well to other groups. A name, however, quickly becomes a mere means of classification, and it is hoped that the world would soon come to know that we did not pretend to be more than we actually are.

50. How Many Bodies Would Be Brought Together in the "United Church of Christ"?

Each of the two uniting bodies is itself the result of previous unions of "movements" and corporate groups. In the C.C. Churches are united (1) The Pilgrims, (2) the Puritans, (3) the Congregational Methodists, (4) the Evangelical Protestants, (5) the Christian Church of Virginia and North Carolina, (6) the Christian Connection of New England, (7) the Christian Church of the Ohio Valley. In the E. and R. Church are united (8) the Reformed Church in the United States, (9) the National Hungarian Reformed Church, (10) the Evangelical Union of the West, (11) the Evangelical Union of Ohio, (12) the United Evangelical Synod of the East, and (13) the United Synod of the Northwest. To these might be added (14) the German groups from Russia which have united with both the C.C. and the E. and R. Churches.

51. Would It Not Be Better to Draw Up a Complete and Detailed Constitution Before we Attempt to Unite?

There would be advantages to this plan, but the best procedure of all seems to be the one being followed:

1. To agree upon the general principles of the union by publishing, discussing, improving, and re-publishing the Basis of Union.

2. Simultaneously to get just as well acquainted with each other as possible.

3. To unite at first only the C.C. General Council and the E. and R. General Synod, and this only after a thorough referendum in each denomination.

4. To allow the mission boards, conferences, synods, and other bodies within the denominations to unite at their own preference and convenience.

52. How Can a Congregation Get in Touch with Members of the Other Denomination?

Each denominational headquarters stands ready to suggest ways and means, if called upon.

53. Would This Union Shut Out the Possibility of Union with Other Denominations Later?

On the contrary, our enlarged size would make union with our larger contemporaries more possible.

54. Should We Be Cut Off from Our International Affiliations?

We should be members (if admitted) both of the Alliance of Reformed Churches throughout the World Holding the Presbyterian System and of the International Congregational Council.

55. In the Event of Union, What Would Happen to Congregations Which Voted Not to Enter?

The services of the United Church would be made available to them as to any congregation in regular standing. It would be hoped that they would eventually decide to enter. If such a church's association or synod entered the union, the minister of the church would be a minister of the United Church, since his standing is held in those bodies.

56. What Advantages Are Claimed for the Union?

Among others, the following:

Spiritually the union would announce to the world that the Church of Christ is a unitive and not a divisive or a static body.

Practically it would permit the church to preach the necessity for unitedness among the nations, etc., without the reproach that she is unwilling to move in that direction herself.

Sociologically the increase in the number of local congregations would tend to control the chief cause of denominational losses, viz., the removal of members to localities where the denomination is not represented.

Strategically the uniting of similar traditions of faith, liberty, and fellowship would multiply their power in the service of Christ, since in union there is strength.

57. What Arguments Are Presented Against the Union?

Chiefly the following:

The discrepancies in polity (cf. the more rigid and the less rigid manner of protecting the churches from unworthy ministers from other denominations) are too great to be overcome.

The traditional attitudes to written creeds would hold the two groups apart.

The loose relation of C.C. mission boards to the denomination differs too widely from E. and R. relationships.

The cultural backgrounds, the one chiefly Anglo-Saxon, the other chiefly Continental, cannot be melted together.

58. What Creed Would Be Used by the New Church?

A large committee would be asked to make a thorough study of all shades of thought within the Church and draw up a comprehensive statement setting forth our common belief.

59. Would Such a Creed Be Authoritative?

It would be a testimony of our faith but would not be used as a test which ministers and members would have to accept verbally.

MISSIONARY AND OTHER DENOMINATIONAL AGENCIES

60. What Relation Would the Mission Boards Have to the Denomination?

They would be the arms of the denomination and controlled by it, but would have the same liberty of action they enjoy today. Boards having the same objects would unite when feasible.

61. What Relation Would the Colleges and Other Charitable Institutions Have to the Denomination?

The same that they have today.

62. Where Are the C.C. Theological Seminaries?

The following are traditionally Congregational, but all admit students from other communions: Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Centre, Mass.; Bangor Theological Seminary, Bangor, Maine; Chicago Theological Seminary, Chicago, Ill.; Hartford Seminary Foundation, Hartford, Conn.; Oberlin Graduate School of Theology, Oberlin, Ohio; Yale University Divinity School, New Haven, Conn.; Atlanta Theological Seminary Foundation, Nashville, Tenn.; Howard University School of Religion, Washington, D. C.; Yankton College School of Theology, Yankton, S. Dak.; Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, Calif.

63. Where Are the E. and R. Seminaries?

The Theological Seminary at Lancaster, Pa.; Eden Seminary at Webster Groves, Mo.; and the Mission House at Plymouth, Wis.

64. Where Are the Colleges of the C.C. Churches?

Many, like Yale University, have long since been independent of the churches. Some of those which still have a tie with the churches are Atlanta University, Atlanta, Ga.; Beloit College, Beloit, Wis.; Carleton College, Northfield, Minn.; Defiance College, Defiance, Ohio; Dillard University, New Orleans, La.; Doane College, Crete, Neb.; Drury College, Springfield, Mo.; Elon College, Elon College, N. C.; Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.; Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa; Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill.; Knox College, Galesburg, Ill.; LeMoyne College, Memphis, Tenn.; Olivet College, Olivet, Mich.; Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore.; Piedmont College, Demorest, Ga.; Schaufler College, Cleveland, Ohio; Talladega College, Talladega, Ala.; Tillotson College, Austin, Tex.; Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Miss.; Washburn Municipal University, Topeka, Kans.; Yankton College, Yankton, S. Dak.

65. Where Are the E. and R. Colleges?

Elmhurst College at Elmhurst, Ill., is governed by trustees directly or indirectly appointed by the General Synod. Others, more or less independent but all of them church-related colleges, are Catawba College, Salisbury, N. Car.; Cedar Crest College, Allentown, Pa.; Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa.; Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio; Hood College, Frederick, Maryland; Mission House, Plymouth, Wisc.; Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa.

66. Does Either Denomination Operate Any Academies?

There are three Academies related to the E. and R. Church.

There are twelve Junior Colleges and Academies of the C.C. Churches, most of them associated with the Board of Home Missions.

67. What Other Institutions Are Connected with the Churches?

With the E. and R. Church 10 orphanages, 13 homes for the aged, 6 hospitals, and 2 homes for epileptics.

With the C.C. Churches 1 orphanage, 2 homes for the aged, 3 hospitals.

The proposal for union of our Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches has been under consideration for about five years. The General Synod in June 1944 and the General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches, meeting at the same time, voted to promote fellowship in areas where the two communions are both well represented, to organize the sending of leaders of either denomination into areas where the other denomination is not numerically strong and to aid the congregations, Synods, Boards, and national agencies in such types of cooperative endeavor as will neither presuppose nor prejudice ultimate union between the denominations. This plan of having the two denominations enjoy the highest degree of mutual acquaintance has been and is being carried out.

At the same meeting in 1944 both bodies declared their willingness to be called into a joint three-day session for a general discussion of the implications of the proposed union and immediately thereafter meet separately to vote upon submission of the matter for vote by the two denominations.

Our General Council and the Executive Committee of the Congregational Christian Churches have both decided to take a poll at the spring meetings of our Synods in 1946, and of the Congregational Christian Associations and Conferences at the same time, to indicate their feelings regarding the union, as set forth in the Basis of Union. If the poll in both denominations is favorable, the joint three-day special meeting is to be held in June, 1946. If unfavorable in either, the joint meeting and the special meeting of our General Synod will not be held.

If the Basis of Union is approved at the joint meeting and action in favor of the union is taken at both separate meetings held immediately afterward, the Basis of Union will be submitted to our Synods and to the Congregational Christian units to be acted upon by them within the succeeding twelve months.

Congregations should carefully consider and discuss this proposed union so that their pastors and delegates may be prepared to indicate their attitudes at the 1946 spring meetings of the Synods. Copies of the Primer, printed above, including diagrams of the organizational framework of the two denominations are to be had from the Office of the Secretary of the Church, 1505 Race Street, Philadelphia 2, Pa., at three cents per copy, postpaid, if money is sent with order.

DEGREES

The General Synod has approved the omission of all A.M. and B.D. degrees from the Register of Ministers. It has also voted that only such honorary or scholastic titles and degrees be officially recognized as are granted by schools of recognized standing—i.e., colleges recognized by the Associations of Colleges, and seminaries recognized by the Association of Theological Seminaries of the United States and Canada.

Subsequent action of the General Council: "The General Council voted that all degrees published prior to January 1, 1945, be recognized and continued in the 1946 Year Book." (Minutes of February 7 and 8, 1945.)

STUDENTS FOR THE MINISTRY

As of June 1, 1945

An effort was made to ascertain the number of Students for the Ministry under the care of the Church by including a rubric in the 1944 statistical report for the congregations, asking (a) for the number of Students for the Ministry in our own denominational schools, and (b) for the number in other institutions.

Apropos of Dr. Goebel's article on Enlistment for World Service we give herewith by Synods the number in our own schools. The responsibility for these figures lies with the pastors submitting them, and not with the editor of the Year Book. The statistics for those in other schools were so obviously inaccurate that they will not be given. The figures for the number in our own denominational schools follow:

California 0	Nebraska 3	Reading 20
Cent. Penn. 3	New York 11	Rocky Mt. 1
Dakota 0	N. E. Ohio 9	S. E. Ohio 8
East Penn. 8	Northern 7	Southern 10
Iowa 9	N. Illinois 15	S. Illinois 12
Kansas City10	N. W. Ohio 8	S. Indiana 16
Lancaster 16	N. Wisconsin 19	S. W. Ohio 11
Lehigh 8	Pacif. N. W. 2	S. Wisconsin 13
Magyar 3	Philadelphia 8	Susquehanna 9
Mercersburg 7	Pittsburgh 12	Texas 4
Mich.-Indiana 10	Potomac 7	W. New York 11
Mo. Valley 13
		TOTAL 303

LOCATIONS OF CHURCHES

The location of every congregation of the Church is listed. Where the street location is missing that information was not reported on the statistical blank.

The name of each congregation is exactly as reported by the pastor. It is presumed that this is as the congregation is designated in its charter. For example, we find Saint John, Saint Johns, and St. John's.

Please send notes of any errors immediately to W. S. Kerschner, Statistician, Office of the Secretary.

The surname and initials of the pastor appear after the name and address of each church. Reference to city, town, or state in the "Register of Ministers" will further establish identity. The title "Rev." and all degrees are omitted from this section.

SYNODS OF THE EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED CHURCH

SYNODS IN PENNSYLVANIA

The Presidents of the Synods

Fourteen of the thirty-four Synods elected new presidents at the spring sessions in 1945. Twelve Synods re-elected the incumbents who had already served one term. The Church gratefully remembers those who have completed their tenure, and offers felicitations and well-wishings to those who assume their new duties. All but one of the presidents are active pastors. Their complete addresses may be found in the Register of Ministers, and the Rosters of the Synods indicate the extent of their jurisdiction.

"The president of the Synod shall have been a member of the Synod for not less than three years and a minister of the Church for not less than five years. . . . The term of office for the officers of the Synod shall be two years. After two full terms of office, the president and vice-president shall not be eligible to succeed themselves." (By-Laws, Article V, Sec. 57.)

Statistical Tables of the Congregations

For the Year Ending December 31 ,1944

THE statistics of the congregations by synods found on the following pages are those reported to the office of the Secretary of the Church by the pastors or proper officials in the local congregations. The name of the pastor given is not always that of the person who prepared the report. Known changes in pastorates officially reported to the office of the Secretary as late as September 15, 1945, have been included, and every effort was made by the Statistician and the synodical presidents to present an accurate and complete record.

A new low was reached in the matter of congregations not submitting their statistical reports. Only sixty-two failed in this important duty, as compared with one hundred and two last year. Twenty synods had perfect records. Given in the order in which they attained the 100% goal, they are as follows: Mercersburg, Northeast Ohio, Pacific Northwest, Potomac, Philadelphia, Southern, Central Pennsylvania, Lehigh, East Pennsylvania, New York, Lancaster, Southwest Ohio, North Illinois, West New York, South Illinois, Magyar, Rocky Mountain, South Indiana, Northwest Ohio and Reading. The sixty-two non-reporting congregations are distributed among the synods as follows: California, 2; Dakota, 31; Iowa, 3; Kansas City, 1; Michigan-Indiana, 4; Missouri Valley, 3; Nebraska, 4; Northern, 1; North Wisconsin, 2; Pittsburgh, 2; Southeast Ohio, 1; South Wisconsin, 1; Susquehanna, 5, and Texas, 2. An analysis of these sixty-two congregations reveals that forty-five were either vacant or supplied, and that seventeen had full-time pastors!

For all intents and purposes, the figures hereinafter contained form the basis of, and are, the official statistics of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

EXPLANATION OF CODE AND SYMBOLS

The asterisk (*) designates congregations which are affiliated, and not in full membership with the Evangelical and Reformed Church.
 The symbol # indicates that congregations so marked returned no report for 1944, and that the statistics used are those of a previous year. In cases where they were available.

Code for the second column: - A indicates that the church is located in a unit or an area with a population of over 100,000; B, between 25,000 and 100,000; C, between 10,000 and 25,000; D, between 5,000 and 10,000; E, between 2,500 and 5,000; F, under 500.

PHOEBE HOME FOR AGED AND INFIRM, ALLENTOWN, PA.

REV. F. H. MOYER, D.D., Superintendent

Proposed Infirmary	Proposed Solarium	Administration Building	Proposed Solarium	Dormitory
The 567 congregations supporting this Home are raising $250,000 to erect the proposed infirmary which is to have 100 beds.
The above proposed solarium should be built to provide sheltered passages for the guests on their way to and from the dining room in the Administration building. If they are made 15 feet wide as proposed, the south side mainly glass and furnished with tables and comfortable chairs, they will also be delightful places for rest and recreation which will afford much enjoyment to the guests.
Here is an opportunity for a precious memorial. Will some one volunteer to pay for a solarium? The estimated cost is $10,000.

HOMWOOD CHURCH HOME

1817 Virginia Avenue, Hagerstown, Md.

"FOR PEOPLE OLD AND FEEBLE."

This Home has been operating for more than twelve years without any more equipment than that of a private dwelling. With this handicap Homewood cared for the feeble, seriously ill and dying.

For lack of equipment and room many of the most needy had to be refused admission.

We are now engaged in collecting funds for an adequately equipped Home and ask for your helpful support.

"DR. JOHN EWING"—The two decades after the election of Dr. John Ewing, minister of the First Presbyterian Church and Provost of the College of Philadelphia, as President of the Fund in 1767, were most difficult. The Revolutionary War brought depreciated currency and the uncertainty of the entire economic structure. The Presbyterian Ministers' Fund emerged triumphantly from every other era of war financing in the history of America.

THIS FUND, which has withstood every economic crisis in our national life and has served the clergy generously and faithfully through more than 228 years recommends, out of its abundant experience with a minister's financial problems, life insurance as the most practical way to combat inflation and provide financial security in the Post-War World.

MUTUAL
Fire & Storm Insurance Association
Burlington, Iowa

Organized 1882 — Incorporated 1921

An Insurance Organization for Evangelical and Reformed folks. Organized to serve only Evangelical and Reformed Churches, Hospitals, Orphanages, Seminaries, Colleges, Pastors and their Widows, Missionaries, Commissioned Lay Workers.

It also writes insurance for the members in the congregation, but does not write mercantile buildings nor stocks of merchandise owned by the members in the congregation.

Insurance carried in our Association has many advantages over other insurance. All of our policies are written for a six year term on an annual premium basis. This plan not only makes it easier to pay the premium but has other advantages as well. There is no carrying charge to be paid.

The Pastors' Household Goods and Personal Effects are always insured, except while in transit from one point to another. There is no advance in rate or premium while in storage. Items of clothing, books, furniture and such items as the pastor may have in the office of the Church are automatically covered under the policy and need not be specifically endorsed on the policy.

Our policies cover for Fire, Lightning, Tornado, Cyclone, Highwinds, and Hail. We also write Extended Coverage when we have the assurance that all policies covering the same risk have the Extended Coverage attached and that the amount for Extended Coverage on the policy is the same as for Fire and Lightning.

Our policies permit other insurance.

It will pay all Congregations, Institutions, and Pastors of the Evangelical and Reformed Church to investigate our Insurance.

INSURANCE IS IMPORTANT. HAVE YOU CHECKED YOUR COVERAGES RECENTLY?

We invite inquiries.
